Head Coach

Cole V. Tallman is the Women's and Men's Volleyball Coach at Mount Olive College. For the past two decades, previous teams have generated almost 700 career wins, 14 All Americans, 13 Coach of the Year awards, over 100 academic team and individual citations, and produced one of the nation's best graduation rates. With head coaching experience at all college levels including 14 years in NCAA D-I, Tallman has become a noted clinician all over the nation and over 35 international destinations. More importantly, he has established a reputation for insuring that The Volleyball Academy remains both instructive and affordable.

Camp Director Hans Hillestad is the assistant coach for men's and women's volleyball at Mount Olive College. He previously coached various adult (open) club and high school teams in Italy and Europe for 20 years. At one point his team had a 105 match win streak; and he has won three European high school championships. The Volleyball Academy Day and Residential Camps Staff will provide experience in both volleyball competence and concern for others. Staff will include current and former NCAA players and coaches. Campers will be supervised, exposed to the latest in both volleyball techniques and tactics, and will work daily with established and future great coaches. Hundreds of Tallman's former players have gone on to coaching careers at both the high school and college levels.

Camp Information

The Volleyball Academy is designed for players who desire to advance their skills for their volleyball season. In the Position and Specialty Camp, players may choose sessions to train as a setter, outside hitter, libero, middle blocker, or defensive specialist/libero. Position groups will cover important fundamentals, training techniques, volleyball tactics, specific group and individual drills, and also within the framework of team play.

The four day all-skills camp is designed especially for middle school students who either wish to learn and have an introduction to volleyball, or students who wish to advance their skills.

The High Potential & Team Camp will provide both individual campers and an entire volleyball team to maximize their potential by practicing and playing with upper level players and coaches. Individual campers will be placed in groups for any team practice and competition sessions including the camp tournament. Teams will have designated practice times and will be assigned a Volleyball Academy staff member to assist in any manner that the Head Coach requests.
